Born in Naples Italy 7st October 1982

I am a highly motivated, independent person who is passionate about sailing. I have been sailing since I was seven years old and I have been successful both as a sailor and a coach on an international level. I have excellent communication and interpersonal skills and work well as part of a team. I build strong working relationships and I am constantly building a network of sailors and opportunity and because of this I am an excellent coach and motivated person especially in a team work.
